William H. Jackson of the New London Rotary club and Frank J. Sparks of the Hartford club were guests at the regular meeting of the Willimantic Rotary club which was held Tuesday noon at the Willimantic Hotel. The attendance was 25. The speaker was Mr. Jackson, who gave a most interesting and instructive address on the subject of "The Rotary Club." The address was well received and the meeting was a success.

A report of the boys' work committee was given by Fred P. Jordan, who stated that the boys' work committee had been organized and that the committee had been working for some time. The committee had been successful in securing the cooperation of the local schools and the community. The committee had also been successful in securing the cooperation of the local churches and the community.

William A. Duncan will give the next week's life history and George H. Shaffer will make the presentation speech. It was voted to accept the report of the boys' work committee and to adopt the recommendations made by that committee. Secretary Charles W. Hill read a letter of thanks in which he thanked the committee for the gift of gold rings. The rings were given to the club at the time of his recent marriage. Jim Mustard then spoke and made a similar presentation to Treasurer Herbert W. Hiner who lost no time in expressing his sincere appreciation.

Gene Gilman gave the autobiography of the late Gen. George H. Shaffer. The autobiography was a most interesting and instructive one. It was a most interesting and instructive one. It was a most interesting and instructive one. It was a most interesting and instructive one.

It was stated Tuesday by Town Clerk Frank P. Fenton that few hunters have complied with the law which states that hunters should file sworn statements as to the number of game and fur-bearing animals which they took during the season. The law requires that this be done within thirty days after the close of the season and so far only ten local hunters have reported. The total number of licenses issued by the town clerk was 480 of which 470 were residents. 3 non-residents and 1 alien.

Mr. Fenton said that these returns should be attended to and that December 24 is the time limit.

Chief Wade U. Webster of the Willimantic fire department announced Tuesday afternoon that he had revoked the permit which allowed the Salvation Army to alter and repair its newly acquired building on Walnut street.

At a recent meeting of the Community club committee of which John P. Sherris is the chairman the discussion of the taking of the Y. M. C. A. building was continued. Upon motion the chairman was authorized to make a committee of one of information and the other for publicity, each committee to consist of three members.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Speakers on Y. W. C. A. Work
Mrs. Harry Emerson Fosdick and Miss Katy Boyd George are to be speakers at the (Wednesday) afternoon at an invitation meeting at the home of Mrs. Oliver Johnson, Jr., where the work of the Young Women's Christian Association will be described.

Mrs. Fosdick, whose home is in New York, is chairman of the department of conventions and conferences. She will speak upon the world wide work of the association. Miss George of the National Board of Young Women's Christian Association, who is in charge of promoting friendly relations with foreign students, will speak on the assurance policy campaign, a nation wide project which the national board is conducting to insure the world wide program.

Miss George, who has been engaged in Young Women's Christian Association work since 1909, began her career with the association as membership secretary in Paris. In 1911 she was appointed general student secretary for the Boston area and from 1917 to 1919 she served as a war worker in France.

CHELSEA CHRISTMAS CLUB
CHECKS ARE DISTRIBUTED
This is the season of the year when a little extra money is most welcome. Hundreds of people in Norwich will receive their Christmas checks during this week. These checks being the fruit of their systematic saving during the past year from their pocket money, will be a most welcome addition to all who have kept their payments up to date. Interest will be added at the rate of two per cent to all amounts paid in.

This has been a most successful year for the club, with a membership increase of about 50 per cent over last year.

There is no method which affords such an easy way to accumulate a considerable fund as through these Christmas checks, especially when interest is paid as is done by The Chelsea Savings Bank. Weekly payments may be made of 50c, 50c, $1 and $5 for 50 weeks starting in December. The amount deposited will be paid out to members next December in plenty of time for Christmas, or if preferred may be transferred immediately to a savings account.

The Chelsea Christmas Club has already enrolled members, and again will be under the personal charge of Miss May L. Bushnell who has handled this club from its beginning. Judging from the report which has been made, next year's club promises to have a much larger membership than last year.

Gay MacLaren at Slater Hall Tonight.
"Miss MacLaren can attend a play four or five times and then produce a whole show from the leading actors or actresses right down to the lobby or doorman," says Ray Stevenson, manager of the New York World of the gifted young girl whose re-creation of plays will be a feature of the Teachers' League course this season.

Gay MacLaren says that this astounding feat of memory is not difficult, and, apparently, it is not so far as she is concerned. She has a repertoire nearly thirty of the most successful plays that have been produced on Broadway in recent years, and she has been seen in the part of one of them, depending entirely on memory for her impersonations of the characters, and her delineation of the piece.

If you wish to hear John Barrymore, Gloria Vanderbilt, Norman Trevor or a score of other actors and actresses whose most successful offerings do not go on in this city, you have only to listen to this extraordinary girl whose presentations of entire plays are photographic in their faithfulness to the original.

Miss MacLaren does not believe that her gift is one that is in any way out of the ordinary. She says that anyone may memorize accurately as she does, if they will only take the time to do so.

She wishes to hold in memory, and she has proved the truth of her startling assertion to great audiences all over this country, that she can remember a play as well as she can a book.

Gay MacLaren appears tonight at Slater Hall. She will present The Governor's Lady. Tickets $1.50. On sale at Cranston & Co.

Mass Meeting for Orient College.
Regarding the Mass Meeting at Slater Hall on Friday evening in the interest of the Union Colleges for the Women of the Orient, the following clipping concerning Dr. Scudder will be interesting to our readers.

The visit of Dr. J. D. Scudder to Nebraska at the very outset of the campaign for gifts has made the committee confident that the $25,000 with all its pledged money. In Lincoln Dr. Scudder talked to a group of 75 doctors and nurses, and as a result of her visit, the Lancaster County Medical Association is undertaking to secure the $1,000 X-ray equipment for the hospital at York, Nebraska.

At the dinner attended by more than three hundred men and women, nearly two thousand dollars was pledged, just as a beginning.

Celebrations in the Oriental colleges have been addressed to American women as follows: Help our colleges. Christian leaders are the only ones for China. Help Japan on the upward road by giving her women Christian freedom.—The Women of Japan. Send Medical aid to the suffering women of India.—One Hundred and Fifty Millions Women of India.

Mrs. Field of New York is spending a few days with W. H. Young and family. A. R. Scanton, Jr., is spending a few weeks with his daughter Maud in Providence.

Miss Annie Shipley, who has been home for a few days, has returned to Hartford.

Anna and Herbert Nelson who were home for Thanksgiving, have returned to Hartford.

Mrs. John Burdick has moved to her new home, Goldman house.

The Christian Endeavour society gave an oyster supper last Friday night. The proceeds are for the Near East relief fund.

Samuel Grange is to give an entertainment in the near future for the Near East fund.

Mrs. A. R. Scanton, who has been visiting friends in Providence, has returned home.

DRILL THEATRE
One of the most preceding attractions scheduled for presentation at the Broad theatre today and tomorrow is Youth to Youth, the first of Melvyn's new special series in which the disappearance of a young man is the basis of a case of distinguished players. The combination of an excellent story, carefully directed, and masterfully interpreted by players of screen prominence is certain to result in a play of genuine entertainment.

Miss Dove, who heads the list of actors and actresses in Youth to Youth, is the nineteen-year-old actress who, was singled out by Mr. Marcus Loew, head of the Metro Pictures Corporation, to play important roles in these photoplays. The famous head of the amusement enterprises, bearing his name, now the former Ziegfeld actress, in several of her early roles, was convinced that a brilliant career was in store for her.

In Youth to Youth Miss Dove appears as a charming and comely girl, a girl of Broadway. Her happiness is doomed when she learns that the world suspects her promiscuity, a wealthy heir, owner of a huge estate, is interested in her success. To achieve the scandal about her, she assumes another name and accepts a position, with a handsome salary, as a secretary. This company of players used as a theatre a floating boat, and traveled along important rivers, making many stops on the way.

While the Thespian, as the theatre is called, is docked in a small rural town, the actress meets a young man, who becomes a friend. He soon becomes a strong, he sees in her remarkable capabilities as an actress, and he sends her photograph to a friend in New York. The disappearance of New York's favorite is solved, through the unknown intervention of the farmer. Whether she is compelled to return to the metropolitan life, her husband, or whether she is permitted to stay where she has been truly happy is the interesting complication that furnishes a thoroughly satisfying conclusion.

Emile Chautard directed the distinguished company of players in Youth to Youth. Opposite Miss Dove appears Callen Lister as the young farmer. Others in the cast are Zane Pitts, Edythe Chapman, Noah Berry, Sylvia Ashton, Isabel Van Buren, Paul Jeffrey, Harold Scott, and the Master of Lincoln, Stephen Jack, Gardner and Carl Gerard.

Youth to Youth was adapted from Flaubert's story by Edith Kennedy. The action was photographed by Arthur Martinelli.

For the second feature Maurice Chevalier will appear in Smiles Are Trumps, a mile-a-minute romance of the rail, and Movie Chats completes the bill.

Broadway Theatre Thursday, Friday
There are five all stars, Keith vaudeville acts scheduled at the Broadway theatre for the last half of this week. There is something quite different from all other motion picture productions. The feature is a new feature. Quite aside from the wonderful beauty of the star herself, she is surrounded by a supporting cast of brilliant screen artists, as well as a score of other capable and experienced players.

Thomas McPherson at the Strand Theatre tomorrow.
Suppose it were vouchsafed to see tomorrow? Would you shape your future different, or permit in the pouring of the rain to happen to you as a matter of course?

In The Man Who Saw Tomorrow, his Paramount picture, which comes to the Strand Theatre tomorrow, is a story of a man who is able to see the future. He is a man who is able to see the future. He is a man who is able to see the future. He is a man who is able to see the future.

And after many vicissitudes the man learns the way to the future. He is a man who is able to see the future. He is a man who is able to see the future. He is a man who is able to see the future. He is a man who is able to see the future.

From the chair where he has been seated while in astral form, he goes to meet the fate he has chosen. He is a man who is able to see the future. He is a man who is able to see the future. He is a man who is able to see the future. He is a man who is able to see the future.

Ladies Joy, Mrs. N. J. at June Bridge have the leading film roles.

Hartford—Negotiations are practically concluded by which property at and near the north corner of Main and Asylum streets will be transferred by lease to Dr. James H. Naylor and others and the transaction represents an unusual one, amounting to $5,000,000, the conveyance to be effected on the basis of a thirty-year lease.
